Legend

- Participants = this could include students, staff, families, or community members, depending on the event
- School events = these are events that are school centered with the purpose of sharing information and/or fostering connectedness between participants. This could include Parent and Community Power Hours, family engagement events, or other community wide events (Trunk-or-Treat, tailgates, Touch-a-Truck, etc).
- Health Promotion events = these events are focused on sharing information about available resources that promote improved physical or mental health. Examples include mental health first aid training, health fairs, and CPR training for community residents.
- Community Workshops = these events center on skill-building in content areas identified as priorities by the community. This could include financial coaching, parenting classes, or literacy nights.
